DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 26, 1833

☞ CORRECTION.—We thought that we had taken sufficient pains, yesterday, to ensure the correct publication of the Report of the Delegates, from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, to Warren. In the evening, however, we discovered, to our great annoyance, that, by some unaccountable means, the name, "William Miller," had crept in among the names of the Delegates from Philadelphia, thus swelling that delegation to eight members, when there were but seven.

WILLIAM J. DUANE.—We publish, to day, the attack of the Globe, the official paper at Washington, upon the late Secretary of the Treasury, and his "card," asking a suspension of public opinion, until he makes a formal reply to the imputations upon his integrity.—The attack is, undoubtedly, made with the full knowledge and approbation of the President.—The fact, that extracts are given from Mr. Duane's letters to the President, and the reference to private conversations between them, are convincing on this point.

A protracted controversy will, no doubt, ensue, and we wish to give our readers all the information necessary to understand and decide for themselves.

The Globe, after publishing Mr. Duane's letter to a friend, which appeared in our paper some days ago, has the following remarks, which are evidently made with the knowledge and approbation of the President.

"Mr. Duane professes, as he constantly has done heretofore, that he is opposed to the Bank of the United States. It was undoubtedly his supposed accordance with the President in his views relative to that institution, which produced his selection as a member of the Cabinet. At the time that selection took place, the subject of a removal of the deposits was under discussion in the country, and in the Cabinet. At the commencement of Congress then pending, the President and Secretary of the Treasury had expressed a distrust of the safety of the public deposits in the Bank of the United States, and the latter had gone further and said, that this, "taken in connection with the necessary arrangements, in anticipation of finally closing its business, have suggested an enquiry into the security of the Bank, as the depository of the public funds." When Mr. Duane consented to take charge of the Treasury Department, the House of Representatives had expressed no opinion upon the subject, and he well knew that it was under consideration, and undecided.

After the opinion of the House was expressed, the subject continued to be agitated in the newspapers, and, we are informed, that a memorial, praying for their removal, was circulated in Philadelphia, to which many signatures were obtained, and it is scarcely possible that Mr. Duane could have been unapprized of it before he came to Washington.

He agreed to accept the Department, therefore, and actually went into it, with a perfect knowledge that this subject was in agitation.

On coming into office, he found that the President had already required, from the members of his Cabinet, written opinions upon the subject; that three members, viz: the Secretary of the Navy, the Postmaster General, and Attorney General, had given opinions favorable to a removal, and that only one member had given a written opinion against it. There were, therefore, three opinions in favor of the removal, and only one against it.—The President, and the three in favor of removal, constituted a majority of four to one. Another member of the Cabinet, who gave no written opinion, although somewhat disinclined to the measure, assured the President of his support if resolved on by him.

This was the state of things when Mr. Duane took charge of the Treasury Department. Not a doubt was entertained, we believe, but that he was already with the majority in opinion, and would proceed, in convenient time, to execute a measure which was deemed essential to the interests of the country.

While on his northern tour, the President communicated to Mr. Duane, by letter, his deliberate opinion upon the subject, not in a spirit of dictation, but of kindness. From Mr. D's newness in office, it was supposed, we presume, that he would feel a heavy weight of responsibility in executing so important a measure, and this the President was desirous to diminish as far as the expression of decided convictions could do it.

A few days after his return, the President was astonished at being informed, in a tone and manner scarcely respectful, that Mr. Duane differed with him in opinion, and would not, with his existing impressions, remove the deposits, but promptly intimated that he would not continue in a situation to embarrass his measures.

A free interchange of opinions then took place between him and the President, and as, in case of removal, it would be necessary to ascertain before hand from the principal State Banks, on what terms they would receive the deposits, it was mutually agreed that a final decision should be postponed until an Agent should be sent to obtain this information, Mr. Duane maintaining that although his present impressions were adverse to the measure, his mind was open to conviction.

In drafting instructions for the Agent, however, he inserted a sentence declaring that there was then no sufficient cause for removing the deposits, but that the information was wanted to enable the government to act, if any cause should thereafter arise.

This palpable decision of the question before hand, which would have made the mission of the agent nugatory and ridiculous, drew from the President a letter, in which he desired to know whether Mr. Duane was already determined not to execute the measure, if, after full inquiry and advisement with his Cabinet, the President should be of opinion that it ought to be done.

In reply to this letter, Mr. Duane explained his object in so wording the instructions, declared that his mind was still open to conviction, and pledged himself, in the most explicit terms, that "if, after receiving the information, and hearing the discussion, he should not consider it his duty, as the responsible agent of the law, to carry into effect the decision the President might then make, he would, from respect for the President and himself, AFFORD THE PRESIDENT AN OPPORTUNITY TO SELECT A SUCCESSOR, WHOSE VIEWS MIGHT ACCORD WITH HIS OWN ON THE IMPORTANT MATTER IN CONTEMPLATION."

As if his sense of honor and propriety, on this point, were not satisfied with such a pledge, he again, in the same letter, explicitly promised, "that when the moment for decision, after inquiry and discussion shall arrive, HE WOULD CONCUR WITH THE PRESIDENT OR RETIRE."

This was about the 22d of July. A few days afterwards, the Agent started on his mission to the State Banks, whence he returned and made report about the first of September. In the meantime, the Report of the Government Directors had been received, disclosing the startling fact that all the funds of the Bank had been placed at the disposition of Mr. Biddle, for electioneering purposes, that more than a hundred thousand dollars had been used in that way; and that the Board of Directors had solemnly resolved, after warning and discussion, to proceed in the same career.

Finding there was no difficulty in making arrangements with the State Banks, the President, confirmed in all his previous opinions, by these disclosures, made those opinions formally known to his Cabinet, by the paper which has already gone to the public.

What was Mr. Duane's course? Did he concur with the President? NO. Did he "afford the President an opportunity to select a successor whose views might accord with his own on the important matter in contemplation?" NOT AT ALL. He would neither "CONCUR" nor "RETIRE."

However, instead of giving a prompt decision when the President's final opinion was announced, he held out the idea that his mind was yet open; that the paper presented some new and strong views; that he might finally concur in the course recommended; and he requested to have the document for further consideration!

His only further consideration was to prepare a reply, inaccurate in its assertions, and indecorous in its language, which was returned to him. Among other extraordinary things, this paper substantially stated that it was not his (Mr. Duane's) intention to comply with his promise to resign when he made it—that he did not, at the time he gave the pledge, suppose the State Banks would enter into the executive's views, in relation to the deposits, and that, therefore, the occasion would not occur which would require the fulfilment of the expectation he had created; but that, as it had arisen, he would do right by refusing to resign, rather than do wrong by voluntarily giving way to enable the President to accomplish his purposes.—This was followed, on the same day, by another note, which he withdrew, and then, on the same day, by another and another! both of which were also returned. These papers were not only inaccurate in their contents, but evinced a disrespect for the President, and a total alienation of feeling, which would have rendered any further association between the President and the Secretary at once unpleasant and improper.

Here, then, was a Secretary of the Treasury, who had given a solemn pledge, twice, and emphatically repeated, which he REFUSED TO REDEEM. Not content with thwarting the wishes of the man to whom he owed his elevation, he treated him with rudeness and disrespect. He was determined to FORCE A DISMISSAL, that he might throw himself into the hands of the Bank Party, to be used as a weapon against one who had invited him to a high and honorable trust. Was this ingenuous, frank, liberal, gentlemanly, or just?

What should the President have done? Ought he to have kept in his Cabinet a man ON WHOSE WRITTEN PLEDGES HE COULD NOT RELY? Ought he to have kept near him a man who not only refused to redeem his pledges, but evinced a total want of the courtesies which should characterize official intercourse? Ought he to have retained, as his confidential adviser, one who was ready to declare that a measure which the President held to be demanded by the public interests, and the will of his constituents, was "unnecessary, unwise, vindictive, arbitrary, and unjust?" The President did not think so.

Mr. Duane was dismissed for FAITHLESSNESS TO HIS SOLEMN WRITTEN PLEDGES, and for the exhibition and bad feelings, WHICH MADE HIM TOTALLY UNFIT FOR THE STATION TO WHICH HE HAD BEEN ELEVATED. He was NOT dismissed merely for refusing to remove the deposits.

Let us not be misunderstood. We maintain the right of the President to dismiss any executive officer for refusing to do what the Chief Magistrate may believe it his duty to do. In this case, if Mr. Duane had not given the written pledge, and had not shown any of his bad feelings, the President might have dismissed him, and probably would. But that point does not belong to the case, and cannot be brought into discussion; for however clear it is, that the President had a right to dismiss him for that cause, it is equally clear that this was not the immediate inducement.

From these facts, the Bank party will perceive that the case is a little different from what they have supposed. To reach the President, they will be obliged to prove, not that he has no power over the deposits, but that he has no right to dismiss a Secretary for falsifying his written pledges and using insulting language towards the Chief Magistrate, whom it is his duty to treat with respect. They must not only prove, that the President has no right to discharge from his councils men on whose word he cannot rely, and whose feelings and opinions are with his worst enemies; but that he cannot remove a Secretary whom he himself has made, who has not had the confirmation of the Senate, whose nomination to that body depends on his will, and whose commission would have expired at the close of the next session of Congress!

Long ago we might have cut short the arguments of the Bank papers by this exposition. But as it must annihilate all that is left of the affected candor, and assumed humility of the late Secretary; as no doubt was entertained that the country would triumphantly sustain the Administration in the great measure, and as there was no desire here to give unnecessary pain, we were disposed to be silent. But when he comes before the country and charges the President and his Cabinet with being "unwise, vindictive, arbitrary, and unjust," and says "I was removed for an honest discharge of my duty," it becomes necessary that truth shall be told and justice done.

Of the motives which governed Mr. Duane's strange condition in Washington, we have said nothing. The motive which now induces him to write vindictive letters for publication is palpable enough: It is to act as the pioneer of the Bank Party and Nullifiers in an attack upon the President at the approaching session of Congress.

A CARD.

W. J. Duane has not, since he ceased to be Secretary of the Treasury, in September last, written any letter, or other article, intended for the public eye, with the exception of the cautionary cards published on the eve of the last election; nor has it been his desire to make any exposition whatever, in relation to occurrences at Washington, unless in self defense. An attack made upon him in the official paper of the President U. S., the Globe, of the 19th inst. puts him upon his defense, and he will, accordingly, at an early day, appear at the bar of the public, at least to repel imputations upon his integrity and conduct as an officer and a man. Into a general discussion of the deposit question, he may not consider himself now called upon to enter: In the meantime, he respectfully asks a suspension of judgment on the part of the public, upon the points at issue between the President and himself.

This card is delivered to each of the daily papers in this city, with the hope that none will refuse to give it currency.

BAR MEETING.

At a meeting of the members of the Pittsburgh Bar, held at the Court House, on Saturday, the 16th inst., A. W. FOSTER, Esq., in the chair, and R. BURKE, Secretary—the following resolutions, proposed by W. W. Fetterman, Esq., were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That the speedy determination, by the Supreme Court, of the business pending before them, is a matter of great public importance, and the delay that has occurred an evil of great magnitude.

2. Resolved, That the labor now imposed on that Court of holding circuit Courts, in addition to the terms of the Supreme Court in Bank, is so great as to require their constant attention in Court, and deprives them of sufficient time to consider and ably decide the causes that come before them in Bank.

3. Resolved, That we have found Circuit Courts inexpedient in practice, and of no possible benefit, and that they ought, therefore, in our opinion, to be abolished.

4. Resolved, That our members in the next Legislature, be instructed to procure, immediately, the passage of a law abolishing Circuit Courts, at least within the county of Allegheny; and providing that all causes, now pending in the Circuit Court of said county of Allegheny, be transferred to the District Court or Court of Common Pleas of said county, at the option of the parties, respectively, by whom they were removed to the Circuit Court.

5. Resolved, That the increase of business in the Supreme Court, for the Western District of Pennsylvania, is so great as to preclude the possibility of a case being decided sooner than three years; that it amounts to a complete denial of justice, and, in fact, repeals an important provision in our bill of rights.

And whereas, it appears, by the printed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the State of Pennsylvania, for the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty two, that the tax paid in that year, for writs of error, by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court for the Western District, is two hundred and sixty one dollars and forty one cents; and the tax paid in the Middle District, is one hundred and ninety dollars; and the tax paid in the Lancaster District, is one hundred and eight dollars and sixty four cents; and the tax paid in the Eastern District is one hundred and sixty five dollars and eighty six cents—and whereas, the Supreme Court sits in Bank, in the three last mentioned Districts, fifteen weeks in the year, and in the Western District only four weeks—and whereas, the business of the Western District requires a term of at least eight weeks, to dispose of the accumulating and current business in the Supreme Court for that District—and whereas, justice should be equally rendered to all the citizens of the commonwealth—

Therefore, Resolved, That the next Legislature be requested to pass a law so organizing the Districts of the Supreme Court, as to make the term of the Supreme Court, for the Western District, commence on the first Monday of September, in each year, and continue during eight weeks, or until all the business pending should be disposed of—and also, that the first three weeks of the term should, in consequence of the vast accumulation of business in the Fifth Judicial District of the Common Pleas, be allotted to the cases from that District.

And whereas, it is a matter of great importance to the whole community, that the law should be certain, and, when certain, known: and, therefore, it is important that a full and accurate report of all the discussions of the Supreme Court should be made by a competent reporter as soon as possible—Therefore,

Resolved, That our Legislature be requested to pass a law for the appointment of a State Reporter, whose duty it shall be to report all the decisions of the Supreme Court in each year; and who shall receive, for his services, a salary, to be paid out of the tax paid on writs of error.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be given to the members of the Legislature for this county, in order that they may be laid before the Legislature at the commencement of the session.

Resolved, That we recommend the subject of the abolition of the Circuit Court to the consideration of our brethren of the bar throughout the State.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the chairman and secretary, and published in all the papers of this city.

A. W. FOSTER, Chairman.

NEWS BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL!!

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

LATER FROM SPAIN.

By the arrival of the brig Marcellus, we have received a file of the Gibraltar Chronicle to the 11th ult., thirteen days later than our previous advices. These papers contain intelligence from Madrid to the 5th of October.

The progress of the cholera is one of the most prominent topics in the papers. The number of cases in Seville, on the 26th of September, had been 3,001, and the new cases, on the 27th, no fewer than 777. Seville has a population equal to about one third of that of the city of New York. The deaths in Seville had, on some days, been more than 300. The latest papers, however, state that the disease was abating in that city. It was still raging at Badajos, Huelva, Olivenza, and several other places.

THE KING OF SPAIN'S WILL.

The most important clauses in Ferdinand's will have been published. The queen is appointed Guardian of his children, and sole Regent and Governess of the Kingdom during the minority of the heir or heiress to the crown, with the assistance of a Council, composed of Cardinal Marco y Calatan, the Duke of Medenacella, General Castanos, the Marquis de las Amarillas, and D. Francisco Javier Caro. The document is dated June 12th, 1830.

The death of the King of Spain was announced at Gibraltar on the 4th of October, whereupon the Lieutenant Governor issued an order for hoisting the royal Standard at half mast, and firing 60 minute guns.

The Queen Governess has issued a Manifesto, dated the 4th of October, declaratory of the principles she is determined to maintain in administering the government during the minority of her daughter, the Queen Donna Isabella. These are, the protection of Religion and the Monarchical form of government, as being the first elements of existence in Spain, and the correction of whatever abuses may have crept into the management of affairs, and the inviolable observance of treaties entered into with other powers. She avers that she "will not admit, as services or merits, either dark influence or manœuvres, or interested vaunts of fidelity and adherence."

"As the cause of "Falling Stars" is not understood by meteorologists, it is desirable to collect all the facts attending this phenomenon, stated with as much precision as possible. The subscriber, therefore, requests to be informed of any particulars which were observed by others, respecting the time when it was first discovered, the positton of the radiant point above mentioned, whether progressive or stationary, and of any other facts relating to the meteors."

We have been informed by Mr. Livermore that the canal, from the Aqueduct, six miles below this place, to Franklin, will be in navigable order in a few days. The Venango delegation to the Canal Convention, had expected to reach this place by way of the canal, but the work has been delayed longer than was expected.—Meadville Messenger, Nov. 22.

Oregon Expedition—Flat Head Indians.—We learn that Mr. Nathaniel Jarvis Wythe, the Captain of the company of adventurers, who went from Cambridge, about eighteen months ago, to the Pacific Ocean, by land, has returned to his native town in good health and spirits.

Captain Wythe has brought with him two young Indians of the Flat Head Tribe, two boys handsomely dressed and well behaved.—Bost. Cour.

We learn that, in consequence of orders received here by express, on Wednesday afternoon, from Washington, two of our largest ships, the Herald and the Jane, have been chartered to convey United States troops from Fortress Monroe to Alabama, touching at Savannah on their way. The ships are fitting out for that peculiar service with all possible despatch, and will sail the moment they are ready. Of the causes which have led to this extraordinary movement, we are not yet informed. Whether the measure has been adopted as one of mere precaution, or whether any new difficulty has arisen in reference to the arrangement of the Indian land question in Alabama, which has called for the exhibition there of an increased armed force on the part of the General Government, will probably be known in a day or two.—Balt. Amer., Nov. 22.

The President of the United States and his late Secretary of the Treasury.—The exposition which we have copied on the preceding page makes its appearance in a form so imposing as to lay it upon us a duty to copy it for the information of our readers. It is as much the act of the President himself as if it bore his signature. He did not write it, to be sure; but that all its statements, and all his temper, are his, is proved by the introduction of extracts from his private papers, and reports of conversations, to which there does not appear to have been any party but Mr. Duane and himself. These, of course, could not have been published without direct information and authority from the President.—Nat. Intel.

In Massachusetts, any persone selling, or offering for sale, a lottery ticket, incurs, by the first offence, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $2,000; for the second offence, in addition to the above penalty, he is liable to one year's imprisonment in the Houses of Correction; for the third, an extension of the term of imprisonment and the same penalty.

Codorus Navigation.—We learn from the York Gazette, of yesterday, that this important work of improvement, is at length completed, and in operation. An ark, loaded with 40,000 feet of lumber, and as many as 1000 persons, arrived in York from Susquehanna river on the day previous. The ark was built at Tioga Point, in the State of New York—navigated to Middleton, and there discharging its freight, was purchased by some lumber merchants of York; dropped down to Eib's Landing, and there loaded with lumber and sent through the Codorus Navigation, to the town of York—ten miles from the Susquehanna. The completion of this improved means of communication with the Susquehanna region, must be deemed an important era to the citizens of the town and vicinity of York. Its beneficial operation will extend indeed much farther. But to the town particularly, it must give a new impulse, which can scarcely fail to be felt in every department of its trade and commerce—as well as its workshops, as in its marts of traffic.

While I was profoundly engaged as a spectator of the magnificent Meteoric shower, of the 13th Nov., instant, I was led to attribute it to the goodness of God to man, and fell into the following train of thought.

A frightful disease (Cholera) had lately appeared on the earth, destroying millions of men. Its fatality was commonly ascribed to some cause connected with the air, affecting man alone, while it passed harmless over all the rest of created beings.

In this glorious exhibition of the descent of the meteoric fire, I thought I beheld the action of the Almighty Creator and Preserver, visibly restoring to our atmosphere some unknown principle of health which had been lost or injured—a principle necessary to persons of all ages and climates. That the process by which Cholera had sacrificed its millions of men, women, and children had been concealed from every eye—while this grand revolution in the air was manifested to all eyes by an universal, celestial illumination.

All the common meteors, such as rain, hail, snow, lightning, and storms, act as purifiers or regenerators of atmospheric air, restoring some lost equilibrium. So this grand meteoric action may be deemed—a visible chemical restoration for the good of man of the ordinary healthy condition of the air.

For, so much more do all the works of God tend to good than evil, that in ten thousand manifestations of his power, hardly ten of evil can be found.

H. M.

Nov. 18th, 1833.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Either at the ensuing session of Corgress, or the sessions for 1834-5, we may expect to see the original number of States doubled, by the accession of Michigan from the extreme North, and Florida from the extreme South. It is supposed that both have sufficient population (47,700) to entitle them to take their places as integral portions of the Confederacy.

Massachusetts Election.—The Boston Centinel says—Calculating within bounds, there will probably be at least 300 National Republicans in the House. As this body will fill all the vacancies in the Senate, the Senate will doubtless consist of some 32 Nationals and 8 opposition. Thus will Mr. Davis's election be secured, and present National Republican policy of the State will be sustained by majorities of three quarters in each branch of the Legislature. We are not aware of any thing that can interpose to prevent this auspicious state of things, and we predict it confidently.

SPAIN.

It is not impossible, says the Boston Atlas, that we shall soon see a civil war in Spain. The only surviving child of Ferdinand VII is a daughter, born in 1830. Previous to the birth of this child, the crown of Spain, by the fundamental law of the kingdom, could be inherited only by males; but soon after this daughter was born, Ferdinand issued an ordinance making females capable of the succession.

Don Carlos, Ferdinand's eldest brother, disputes the validity of this ordinance, and claims the throne. He is at Abrantes, about fifty miles from Lisbon.—The Queen mother, (a daughter to the King of Navarre, and sister to the famous Duchess de Berri) has assumed the Regency. The administration remains in the hands of the former ministers, who are said to be decidedly favorable to the claims of Don Carlos.

MARRIED,

In Bridgewater, Connecticut, by the Rev. Mr. Winter, Mr. BENJAMIN CLOUGH, of Sanbornton, to Miss CAROLINE BOWERS, of Bridgewater. Both deaf and dumb. The scene was a novel one. "No voice of Parson, Bridegroom, Bride, was heard." The marriage ceremony was performed in writing; it being presented, each assented, and they were pronounced married, agreeably to the laws of that State. Love does not, as some suppose, enter at the ear.

DEATH OF DU COUDRAY.

See Paul Allen's History of the American Revolution, vol. 2, page 70.

In the Spring of life he left
  His relatives and hearth,
And bade a long farewell unto
  The land which gave him birth.
Within his young breast glow'd
  The patriot's holy flame;
In the glorious strife for liberty,
  To aid our sires he came.

He came in that dark hour,
  Which souls the sternest tried—
But freely the young warrior bound
  The falchion to his side.
His burning zeal gave promise
  Of a chivalrous career;
The rolling drum and cannon peal
  Was music to his ear.

Ah! death is often nearest
  When least we deem him nigh;
This noble son of France fell not
  Where warriors meet to die.
The banner bathed in slaughter,
  Alas! was not his shroud:
Nor was the gallant stranger's pall
  The wreathing battle cloud.

Impatient in the fearful strife,
  To wield his blade untried,
He urged his steed until he reach'd
  The Schuylkill's rapid tide—
A boat, to bear him over, soon
  Across the flood was sent,
And into it the fiery youth,
  Without dismounting, went.

Regardless of the rein, the steed,
  (Affrighted by the gleam
Of weapons,) with his rider, plunged
  Into the foaming stream.
His comrades fruitless efforts
  To save their leader made:
They saw the waves close over him,
  But could afford no aid.

Forget him not, Americans!
  Green let his memory be!
To die in your defence, he came
  Across the raging sea.
Your children teach, from infancy,
  To reverence his name,
And give to him a lofty place
  Upon the page of fame.

HARRISBURGH CHRONICLE—EXTRA. Published, Twice a Week, by Hugh Hamilton & Son.—Reports of Proceedings of the Pennsylvania Legislature.—The Harrisburgh Chronicle will contain a concise and faithful report of the proceedings and debates of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, which will commence its session in Harrisburgh, on the first Tuesday of December next. The Senior Editor will report in one of the legislative branches, and an experienced and competent Reporter is engaged to attend in the other. Such reports will be furnished as are calculated to put the reader in possession of a history of the Session of 1833 4; to do which, the faculty of condensation shall be employed for the benefit of the reader, even though it may sometimes be unpleasant to the legislator; for the topics that must, of course, come up for discussion, will be more numerous, important, and diversified than they have been heretofore, and there is every probability that the exciting questions that must necessarily be agitated in Congress, will also become exciting questions in the Legislature of the State, and add to the interest of the Session.

The proceedings of the Legislature of the State are full of interest to the citizen, and an intimate acquaintance with them is almost an indispensable requisite, when he comes forward on election day to exercise his sovereignty in the capacity of a voter. Hence every citizen ought to possess a fair and faithful report of the proceedings, and it is hoped that those who do not choose the Chronicle will take some other paper for this purpose.

TERMS.—For the Session alone, twice a week, in advance, - $2 00
For the whole year, in advance, 3 00

☞Persons furnishing six subscribers, and enclosing $10, shall have a seventh copy forwarded regularly for their trouble.

LOOK HERE—A BARGAIN!!

INASMUCH as the undersigned wishes to improve his property, in various parts of the city of Pittsburgh, he avails himself of the opportunity of offering, to the public, that well known property, in Pitt township, three and a half miles from Pittsburgh, near what was formerly called the 'Black Horse Tavern,' on the Pittsburgh and Greensburgh Turnpike, viz:—10, 20, or 30 acres, or more, if required, with the improvements. A further description is deemed unnecessary, as those wishing to purchase, will call and examine for themselves.

I wish, also, to engage 15 or 20 laboring men, to clear a certain quantity of land, on the same premises, for which the highest price will be given for their labor. A person circumstanced to take the contract, would be preferred.

I also offer for sale, the three fourth parts of the three quarter lot, No. 220, marked off on Col. Woods' plan of said city, 60 feet front, on Front street, or First, running through to Second street, between Wood and Market streets, with the back rents, of which an indisputable title can be given.

DAILY PAPER AT HARRISBURGH.—The subscribers propose to publish a Daily Paper during the coming session of the Legislature, provided a sufficient number of subscribers are procured to warrant the expense. The necessity of a daily journal at the seat of government, impartial as to politics, and giving the debates of both houses, fully, faithfully, and daily, has long since been acknowledged. Such a paper cannot be sustained in Harrisburg, unless the citizens of other sections of the state come forward and aid in its support. At the present stage of our improvement system, and fiscal conserns of the commonwealth, a daily paper, the statements of which can be depended upon, published at the seat of government, must be a desideratum of all parties. We therefore shall expect that exertions will be made in every section of the state to procure us subscribers.

The Daily Pennsylvania Intelligencer will be printed on a half imperial sheet, for five dollars (in advance,) during the session. It will not only contain full and impartial daily reports of the proceedings of the Legislature, but will contain a summary of the proceedings of Congress, besides news and miscellaneous reading. ☞Post Masters and Agents procuring four subscribers, shall receive a fifth copy gratis.

FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of tha state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington, Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330	acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots,	containing about	6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county---and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others--- a soil rich and productive---the neighborhood abounding in coal---well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
